The corporate governance of Asahi Broadcasting Group Holdings Corporation (the “Company”) is described below.

I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance, Capital Structure, Corporate Profile and Other Basic Information

1. Basic Views

The Company’s basic views on corporate governance are as follows:

(1) The Group, as a corporate group with broadcasting business as its core, firmly recognizes the highly public nature of broadcasting and its own social responsibilities, strictly complies with the Broadcast Act and other relevant regulations, and contributes to the development of society and culture guided by the Group Business Philosophy.

(2) The Group builds good relationships with a diverse range of stakeholders, including shareholders, viewers, listeners, readers, advertisers, business partners, employees and local communities, and strives for both sustainable growth and improved corporate value to meet their expectations. This is prefaced on maintaining a management base capable of sustaining under all circumstances information dissemination through broadcasting, etc. that preserves and develops the daily lives of residents, as a media organization with a mandate to utilize the broadcasting spectrum, a public asset, in an effective manner.

(3) As an institutional design for corporate governance, the Company has chosen an Audit and Supervisory Committee-based framework. The Company has devised a structure whereby the role of the Board of Directors is to promote sustainable corporate growth and the increase of corporate value, while independent outside directors and Audit and Supervisory Committee conduct monitoring and audits essential to highly effective management.

(4) The Company has made the following commitments to ensure robust corporate governance:

1. Ensure the rights and equality of shareholders
2. Encourage active information disclosure and dialogue with shareholders and investors
3. Sustainability initiatives
4. Strengthen the functions of directors, etc.

5. Establish and effectively operate an internal control system

(5) To enact the aforementioned commitments, the Company, via the Board of Directors, has defined the “Corporate Governance Policy,” and updates the content of the policy as necessary.

[Reasons for Non-compliance with the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code]

The Company complies with all General Principles, Principles, and Supplementary Principles of the Corporate Governance Code.

[Disclosure Based on the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code] Updated

Please refer to Article 18 (Disclosure of Reasons for Selection of Director Candidates and Dismissal of Directors) of the CG Policy.

Supplementary Principle 3.1.3

1. Initiatives on sustainability

The Asahi Broadcasting Group recognizes that a groupwide approach to the various issues surrounding sustainability is a key challenge for sustainable social growth, as well as sustainable growth and mid- to long-term corporate value improvement of the Group. To respond to this challenge, the Company established the Sustainability Promotion Committee and formulated the Asahi Broadcasting Group Sustainability Policy. The framework such as the Committee, etc., and various promotion policies and other information are disclosed on the Company’s website.

(<https://corp.asahi.co.jp/en/csr/index.html>)

The Company also views climate change as one of the most important management issues facing the Group. The Company believes that the Task Force on Climate-Related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) provides an effective framework for implementing information disclosure related to climate change issues, etc. The Company declared its endorsement of the TCFD recommendations in May 2022. The information to be disclosed based on TCFD recommendations is shown on the Company's website.

(<https://corp.asahi.co.jp/en/csr/environment/tcfd2022.html>)

In line with the TCFD recommendations, the Company will continue to disclose information on the impact of climate change on the ABC Group business activities and the measures taken to address the issues.

2. Investment in human capital

In order for the overall Group to grow amid the rapidly changing business environment and increasing uncertainty in society, the Company set four priority targets in the Medium-term Management Strategy "NEW HOPE," with advancements being made in one of those targets, "Strengthen and diversify human resources throughout the Group." Please refer to "Strengthen and diversify human resources throughout the Group" on pages 16 and 17 of the Corporate Report (Integrated Report) 2022 for details of the specific initiatives. (<https://corp.asahi.co.jp/en/company/report.html>)

3. Investment in intellectual property

The content of Asahi Television Broadcasting's programs, etc., which are the core of the Asahi Broadcasting Group and each Group company's content are intellectual property in which we are investing aggressively.

Principle 4.1 Roles and Responsibilities of the Board (1)

Supplementary Principle 4.1.1

Please refer to Article 23 (Authority and Role of the Board of Directors) of the CG Policy.

Principle 4.9 Independence Standards and Qualification for Independent Outside Directors

Please refer to Article 17 (Independence Standards) of the CG Policy and the details in this report under [Independent Officers] within "1. Organizational Composition and Operation" of "II. Business Management Organization and Other Corporate Governance Systems regarding Decision-making, Execution of Business, and Oversight in Management."

Principle 4.10 Use of Optional Approach

Supplementary Principle 4.10.1

Please refer to Article 24 (Establishment of the Nomination and Compensation Committee) of the CG Policy. The Company will further consider and disclose its basic views on the independence of the committee's composition, its authority and role, etc.

Principle 4.11 Preconditions for Board and Kansayaku Board Effectiveness

Supplementary Principle 4.11.1

The Company nominates candidates for directors irrespective of their gender, career history or age based on the nominations policy prescribed by the Company. However, because the Company is a certified broadcasting holding company, it is unable to appoint directors who are foreign nationals. In addition, the Company appoints persons with the appropriate experience and capabilities and the necessary knowledge concerning finance, accounting and law as directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members, with a composition that ensures diversity. The Company will continue to consider initiatives to ensure diversity in aspects such as gender and age. Please refer to the diagram at the end of this report for the so-called skills matrix, which lists the knowledge, experience and abilities of each director in accordance with the skills considered necessary on the Board of Directors to deal with the business environment, business characteristics and other matters.

Principle 4.11 Preconditions for Board and Kansayaku Board Effectiveness

Supplementary Principle 4.11.2

Please refer to Article 19 (Policy Regarding Concurrent Positions) of the CG Policy.

Concurrent positions as officers of other listed companies by the Company's directors are as follows.

Principle 4.11 Preconditions for Board and Kansayaku Board Effectiveness

Supplementary Principle 4.11.3

Please refer to Article 26 (Evaluating Board of Directors Effectiveness) of the CG Policy.

The Company conducted a questionnaire regarding the effectiveness of the Board of Directors during FY2022. Our self-assessment indicated that the composition of the Board, the content of the agenda and materials of Board meetings, and prior explanations were generally appropriate. Based on the results of interviews, we intend to increase the effectiveness of the Board of Directors meetings improving the method of distributing materials and creating opportunities to deepen an understanding of the Group's businesses.

Principle 4.14 Director and Kansayaku (Audit and Supervisory Board Member) Training
Supplementary Principle 4.14.2

Please refer to Article 28 (Training for Directors) of the CG Policy.

Principle 5.1 Policy for Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders

Please refer to Article 10 (Dialogue with Shareholders and Investors) of the CG Policy.

Principle 5.2 Establishing and Disclosing Business Strategies and Business Plan

[Actions to conduct management conscious of the cost of capital and share prices]

We are analyzing and discussing the current situation to disclose policies and goals for improving return on capital and market value. We intend to disclose these policies and goals when we announce our financial results for the second quarter of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2024.

[Status, Etc., of Dialogues With Shareholders]

The following are structures and initiatives for engaging in constructive dialogue with shareholders.

1. The Company formulated the IR and Information Disclosure Policy in 2015, which concerns the systems and initiatives to foster constructive dialogue with shareholders and investors, and posts this on the Company's website.
2. In principle, the Company holds biannual financial results briefings for analysts and institutional investors (May and November), attended by the representative director and president. In these briefings, we explain business performance and the progress of medium-term management strategies, etc. We publish scripts of the briefings, including Q&A sessions, on the Company's website.
3. The Corporate Strategy Department of Communication Strategy Division is in charge of shareholder relations and the preparation of important IR tools. The department works in cooperation with the Corporate Management Division, which is in charge of corporate accounting, and the Group Strategy Division, which is in charge of group strategy.
4. Opinions obtained through dialogue with shareholders and investors are reported to management at the Board of Executive Officers and other meetings as necessary.
5. Personnel involved in IR operations are knowledgeable about the appropriate management of insider information. In addition, the three-week period prior to the announcement of quarterly financial results is a quiet period during which we refrain from responding to and commenting on inquiries regarding financial results.

In addition to the preceding, the Company discloses quarter financial results in English simultaneously for the benefit of overseas institutional investors, posting graphs of business performance and financial highlights in English on the Company's website. We also post a script of the financial results briefing, including the Q&A session, on the Company's website. In FY2022, we began publishing a digest of our integrated report, translated into English, on the Company's website.

The Company conducts individual interviews and meetings with securities firms and institutional analysts as needed. The Company's executive officer in charge of investor relations is the individual who mainly conducts individual interviews and meetings. These dialogues cover a wide range of topics, including details of current financial results, background on outlooks of future performance, progress in medium-term management strategies, capital policies (shareholder returns, etc.), and growth investment strategies. Reports from these dialogues are made to management as necessary. In response to the increasing number of questions in dialogues regarding non-financial information, such as the role of our business in social issues, we strive to enhance the disclosure of non-financial information in the integrated report and other communications.

The Company has a listed subsidiary DLE, Inc. (“DLE”).

The Company has set the “Asahi Broadcasting Group Companies Management and Administration Regulations” and defined rules concerning the sharing of information and reporting of business operations within the Group; in parallel, under “Group Companies Management and Administration Regulations” formulated by subsidiaries, subsidiaries are obligated to report their important information to the Company. However, these regulations do not apply to DLE and its subsidiaries. By executing an individual governance agreement, the independence of decision-making as a listed company is maintained without being detrimental to DLE’s minority shareholders and management is conducted in a way that maintains and improves the corporate value of both the parent and subsidiary. In addition, when becoming a subsidiary in May 2019, DLE was designated as a securities on alert, but this designation was removed in February 2020 through the efforts to strengthen governance by building internal controls systems with personnel support from the Company. The Company also believes that the removal of the designation has led to the benefits of minority shareholders. DLE transitioned to a company with Audit and Supervisory Committee in June 2021. The Company will continue to provide support to DLE so that its control systems can be maintained and function autonomously.

Matters Related to the Independence of Such Directors and/or Employees from Executive Directors

The Company has established an Audit and Supervisory Committee Office to assist the duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee, and has formulated the “Regulations for Employees Assisting the Duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee” to ensure the independence and efficacy of the office.

The Audit and Supervisory Committee Office consists of several individuals, including an office director who is independent from the business executives, with ample consideration given to experience, knowledge and capabilities in the appointment of employees.

Employees attached to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office follow the directives and orders of the Audit and Supervisory Committee. Transfers, performance reviews, and commendations or sanctions of employees attached to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office who are independent from the business executives occur with prior approval of the Audit and Supervisory Committee. The Company’s directors and employees are careful to avoid placing any undue constraints on the employees of the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office that might hinder their independence.

Cooperation among Audit and Supervisory Committee, Independent Auditor and Internal Audit Division

The Audit and Supervisory Committee and the independent auditor hold regular briefings concerning the Audit and Supervisory Committee’s audit plans and audit implementation and exchange opinions as necessary if there are other proposals.

The Company has established an Internal Audit Office under the direct authority of the Representative Director, and while the Internal Audit Office is in charge of the internal audit, the Audit and Supervisory Committee works in collaboration with the Internal Audit Office such as by receiving reports from the Internal Audit Office concerning internal audit themes and the internal audit reports reported to the President.

In addition, outside directors, including independent outside directors, and the General Manager of the Internal Audit Office attend the meeting where the external independent auditor presents the year-end audit report, etc. to the Audit and Supervisory Committee, thereby ensuring cooperation.

Policy on Determining Compensation Amounts and Calculation Methods

Established

Disclosure of Policy on Determining Compensation Amounts and Calculation Methods

Concerning the compensation, etc. of directors (excluding directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members), the Company has established compensation systems and levels commensurate with their respective responsibilities, considering the need to secure and retain outstanding human resources to respond to the mandate of shareholders and the need to provide incentives to improve business performance.

The compensation of executive directors comprises annual compensation and bonuses. In addition to basic compensation, position-based compensation and representative compensation, which are fixed compensation, annual compensation consists of short-term performance-linked compensation as performance-based compensation, each of which has its own calculation criteria. Basic compensation, position-based compensation and representative compensation consist of cash compensation. Other compensation consists of cash and stock-based compensation. Bonuses for executive directors are paid once annually in line with Group operating results for the previous fiscal year, subject to the condition that the Group records positive consolidated ordinary profit.

Basic compensation is set as monthly fixed compensation in light of quantitative elements such as corporate performance, compensation of other companies in related industries, rate of increase of employee salary and the number of years of continuous service, etc. and in reference to the amount of annual salary of employees in the highest position. Position-based compensation is monthly fixed compensation capped at 70% of the amount of basic compensation for each position. Representative compensation is monthly fixed compensation capped at 20% of the amount of basic compensation for Representative Directors. Performance-based compensation is set for each executive director and paid monthly as short-term performance-linked compensation, capped at 70% of the amount of basic compensation, and considers qualitative elements such as the business management capabilities, achievements and degree of contribution of each executive director as well as corporate performance. Group consolidated ordinary profit and consolidated net sales are selected as performance indices for performance-linked compensation, etc. To strengthen the linkage between the compensation and the medium- to long-term enhancement of corporate value, the Company has adopted restricted stock compensation as non-cash compensation for executive directors, which is paid as part of performance-based compensation annually in July.

The Board of Directors resolves the basic design of compensation for executive directors following consultation with the Nomination and Compensation Committee. The annual compensation, etc. for each executive director is determined by resolution of the Board of Directors' meeting held after the conclusion of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders each year, in line with the basic design, including the resolution to delegate the decision to the Representative Director and President who oversees the overall Company. The authority of the Representative Director and President subject to such resolution for delegation is for the amount of basic compensation for each director, and the evaluation and allocation of performance-based compensation and bonuses in light of the evaluation and performance of each director. For non-cash compensation (stock-based compensation), the Board of Directors resolves the number of shares to be delivered to each individual director considering reports from the Nomination and Compensation Committee.

Regarding compensation of outside directors, taking into account their independence from business execution, the Company has established compensation systems and levels that exclude elements pegged to fluctuations in business performance.

Compensation for directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members consists solely of annual compensation (fixed compensation). To attain fairness in the amount of compensation for each Audit and Supervisory Committee member and ensure that auditing functions effectively, the amount of compensation is determined through discussion of the Audit and Supervisory Committee within the maximum amount of compensation for directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members approved by resolution at the general meeting of shareholders.

The amount of compensation, etc. is determined by resolution of the Board of Directors within the maximum amount of compensation of directors approved by resolution at the general meeting of shareholders.

At the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 29, 2005, the Company passed a resolution to abolish its retirement benefit payment plan for officers. For reappointed directors and Kansayaku (Audit and Supervisory Board Members) in office as of the same meeting, retirement benefit payments were made upon their retirement for the period from the beginning of each of their tenures to the conclusion of the meeting. There are currently no eligible persons.

[Supporting System for Outside Directors]

Materials on issues of substantial importance for the Board of Directors are distributed to outside directors in advance, and executive directors provide to outside directors (and standing Audit and Supervisory Committee members provide to outside Audit and Supervisory Committee members) explanation in advance, as necessary.

2. Matters on Functions of Business Execution, Auditing, Oversight, Nomination and Compensation Decisions (Overview of Current Corporate Governance System) Updated

The Company is a company with Audit and Supervisory Committee, and its business execution is conducted in accordance with resolutions of the Board of Directors or by the Board of Executive Officers, comprised of executive directors, as well as other approval procedures.

The Board of Directors in principle meets once a month and the Board of Executive Officers meets regularly every other week.

The Board of Directors comprises 13 directors, including four women. This includes eight (or more than one-half) who are outside directors with extensive knowledge and experience as corporate manager or organization operator.

The Audit and Supervisory Committee comprises one standing Audit and Supervisory Committee member and three outside Audit and Supervisory Committee members, including two women. All outside Audit and Supervisory Committee members have considerable insight concerning finances and accounting, and are currently or have previously worked as representative directors of major companies, etc. One standing Audit and Supervisory Committee member, who is well versed in overall business execution, and outside Audit and Supervisory Committee members collaborate in adequately fulfilling their supervisory function over executive directors and executive officers, such as by conducting effective audits based on audit standards prescribed by the Audit and Supervisory Committee. Initiatives to strengthen the function of the Audit and Supervisory Committee are implemented such as by appointing an office director who is independent from the business executives to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office who, together with several office members, assists the Audit and Supervisory Committee in its duties and operations.

The Company has appointed Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu LLC as the independent auditor, which mutually cooperates with the Audit and Supervisory Committee to undergo audits in accordance with the Companies Act and Financial Instruments and Exchange Act and to ensure the appropriateness of its accounts. The certified public accountants who were engaged in the audit were Takashi Okumura and Tetsuya Chihara. The number of continuous years on audit engagements is five (5) years or less for the lead engagement partner and seven (7) years or less for other engagement partners. Assistants for auditing services consist of eight certified public accountants, eight persons who have passed the accountant examination, and 14 other individuals.

Under the Company's corporate governance system, as noted above, the Audit and Supervisory Committee oversees the execution of duties by directors, and to further ensure the trust of all shareholders and investors, the Board of Directors is a "board of directors comprised of mainly outside directors."

In 2019, the Company voluntarily established the Nomination and Compensation Committee, which meets multiple times each year. It receives advice from the Board of Directors and reports on issues such as the appointment and dismissal of the Representative Director and President, the status of planning and grooming of a successor, proposed candidates for directors and executive officers, and the basic design of compensation for directors and executive officers.

3. Reasons for Adoption of Current Corporate Governance System

As an institutional design for corporate governance, the Company has chosen an organizational structure of a company with Audit and Supervisory Committee. The Company has devised a structure whereby the role of the Board of Directors is to promote sustainable corporate growth and the increase of corporate value, while independent outside directors and the Audit and Supervisory Committee conduct monitoring and audits essential to highly effective management.

This type of system is believed to strengthen the supervisory function over executive directors and executive officers, maintain sound business management and transparency of decision-making, while also stimulating the Board of Directors through the incorporation of outside opinions.

IV. Matters Related to the Internal Control System

1. Basic Views on Internal Control System and the Progress of System Development Updated

1. Basic views on internal control systems

The Company recognizes that the development of internal control systems and their effective operations are important management issues to enhance corporate governance. Therefore, while the supervision of business execution by directors and executive officers by the Board of Directors is a given, as a company with Audit and Supervisory Committee, the Audit and Supervisory Committee has built and works to strengthen its management monitoring system for conducting audits of business execution by directors and executive officers. In addition, the Company is strengthening the internal audit division while also aiming to develop risk management systems to support risk taking by senior management.

2. Progress of internal control system development

The Company has developed internal control systems based on the following policy.

(1) System for ensuring execution of duties by directors/executive officers and employees of the Company and its subsidiaries conforms to legal regulations and the articles of incorporation

1. Compliance

- The Group has formulated the “Asahi Broadcasting Group Compliance Charter” and “Asahi Broadcasting Group Compliance Code of Conduct” to conduct compliance management based on legal and regulatory compliance and social consciousness.
- The Company has formulated the “Asahi Broadcasting Group Compliance Regulations” and established the Legal and Compliance Division under the executive officer responsible for compliance, enacting a necessary framework for enabling directors/executive officers and employees of the Company and its subsidiaries to act in line with legal and regulatory compliance and in a socially ethical manner.
- The Company has established an internal reporting desk within the Legal and Compliance Division and outside the company, offering consultations to and receiving reports from the directors/executive officers, employees and other related individuals of the Company and its subsidiaries regarding possible compliance violations.
- The Company has formulated rules regarding compliance reporting desks based on Japan’s Whistleblower Protection Act, defining the investigation of and responses to reported information. We safeguard the confidentiality and prohibit the mistreatment of any individual who comes forward to report information.
- The Company’s Legal and Compliance Division periodically reports to the representative director and Board of Directors on the operational status of systems pertaining to internal reporting.
- The Company and its subsidiaries have formulated “Regulations for Rejection of Antisocial Forces,” prohibits the provision of any profit or accommodation to antisocial forces, and is steadfastly committed to resisting any pressure from such forces.

2. Internal audits

- The Company has established an Internal Audit Office under the direct authority of the Representative Director and President.
- The Company has formulated “Internal Audit Regulations” defining the basic parameters regarding audits, including audit criteria and standards; audits examine the operational status of business execution, compliance systems, risk management and internal control systems of the Company and its subsidiaries, and are conducted to confirm that overall operations are being conducted appropriately in light of laws, regulations and the articles of incorporation.
- The Company’s Internal Audit Office confirms that its code of conduct, as an expression of the Company’s corporate culture and climate, is respected in letter and spirit, and whether it is being implemented.
- The Company’s Internal Audit Office prepares internal audit reports, which it reports to the Representative Director and President. The Representative Director and President makes improvements and takes other necessary measures based on the internal audit reports, and reports actions taken to the Board of Directors.
- The Company’s Internal Audit Office, as appropriate, reports to and coordinates with the Audit and Supervisory Committee on plans, outcomes and other areas regarding internal audits.

(2) System for preservation and management of information pertaining to execution of duties by directors

- The Company has formulated “Document Management Regulations,” and conducts the appropriate preservation and management of documents pertaining to business execution by directors, including the minutes of the Board of Directors.

(3) Regulations regarding management of risk of loss by the Company and its subsidiaries and other systems

- The Company’s Legal and Compliance Division has formulated a risk management chart and “Risk Management Manual” for the Company and its subsidiaries, as part of appropriate risk management efforts. The Legal and Compliance Division has also formulated a “Crisis Management Flow Chart” to respond appropriately when risks emerge.
- To respond to risks related to television programming, broadcasting accidents and other risks, the Group has established under Asahi Television Broadcasting Corporation’s Board of Executive Directors a Broadcasting Problems Countermeasures Committee, Broadcasting Programs Examination Committee and Broadcasting Accidents Countermeasures Committee along with a Group Risk Management Countermeasures Committee at the Company to address risks facing the Group as a whole.

- The Group has formulated a “Business Continuity Plan” and “Disaster Readiness Manual,” and strives to maintain broadcasting functions during times of disaster.
- The Company has assigned the positions of legal manager and compliance manager under the Legal and Compliance Division, devising a system that enables confirmation of legal risks accompanying business execution, while receiving advice from attorneys.

(4) System to ensure efficient execution of duties by directors and others of the Company and its subsidiaries

- The executive directors/executive officers of the Company and its subsidiaries realize appropriate and efficient business execution in accordance with the scopes of authority determined by their respective Boards of Directors.
- The Company and its subsidiaries have formulated a medium-term management plan encompassing the entire Group; directors/executive officers of the Company and its subsidiaries execute their duties to achieve plan objectives.
- The Company, through the Board of Executive Officers (consisting of officers) and through various committees, shares information pertaining to the Company and its subsidiaries and collaborates, and conducts appropriate and fast decision-making.

(5) System regarding reporting to the Company of matters related to execution of duties by directors and others at its subsidiaries

- The Company has formulated “Asahi Broadcasting Group Companies Management and Administration Regulations” and defined rules concerning the sharing and reporting of information and business operations within the Group; in parallel, under “Group Companies Management and Administration Regulations” formulated by subsidiaries, subsidiaries are obligated to report operating results, financial position and other important information to the Company.
- The Company holds regular briefings with Group companies, and strives to share important information regarding management.

(6) Matters regarding employees assisting the duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee

- The Company has established an Audit and Supervisory Committee Office to assist the duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee, and has formulated the “Regulations for Employees Assisting the Duties of Audit and Supervisory Committee” to ensure the independence and efficacy of the office.
- The Audit and Supervisory Committee Office consists of several individuals, including an office director who is independent from the business executives, with ample consideration given to experience, knowledge and capabilities in the selection of employees.
- Employees attached to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office follow the directives and orders of the Audit and Supervisory Committee.
- Transfers, performance reviews, and commendations or sanctions of employees attached to the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office who are independent from the business executives occur with prior approval of the Audit and Supervisory Committee.

- The Company's executive managing directors/executive officers and employees are careful to avoid placing any undue constraints on the employees of the Audit and Supervisory Committee Office that might hinder their independence.

(7) System for reporting to the Audit and Supervisory Committee

- The general manager of the Company's Legal and Compliance Division reports immediately to the Company's Audit and Supervisory Committee upon receipt of reports of matters that could materially impact the operations or financial position of the Company and its subsidiaries, or reports of matters that could constitute compliance violations.

- When requested by the Audit and Supervisory Committee to provide reports on matters pertaining business execution, the directors/executive officers and employees of the Company and its subsidiaries respond promptly to fulfill this reporting request.

- The Company's Internal Audit Office and the Audit and Supervisory Board members of subsidiaries meet periodically, and as needed, with the Company's Audit and Supervisory Committee to report on the status of internal audits, compliance, risk management and other relevant areas of the Company and its subsidiaries.

- The Company has formulated "Regulations Regarding Reporting to the Audit and Supervisory Committee"; the Company strictly prohibits the taking of any negative actions against directors/executive officers or employees of the Company and its subsidiaries who report to the Audit and Supervisory Committee as a consequence of their decision to report, and disseminates awareness of this policy throughout the Group.

(8) Other systems for ensuring effective performance of audits by the Audit and Supervisory Committee

- The Company's Audit and Supervisory Committee members attend meetings of the Company's Board of Directors, meetings of the Company's Board of Executive Officers, and other important meetings, and are able to access minutes, circulars for approval and other documents related to business execution from important meetings.

- Each year, the Company develops a set budget to cover expenses that arise from the execution of duties by the Audit and Supervisory Committee.

- The Company bears the cost of covering temporary expenses that arise in the performance of audits by the Company's Audit and Supervisory Committee, including for the hiring of attorneys, certified public accountants and other external advisors, except in cases deemed unnecessary for the execution of the duties of the Audit and Supervisory Committee.

2. Basic Views on Eliminating Anti-Social Forces and Status of Its Development

The Company prescribes in its Compliance Charter and Compliance Code of Conduct that “it is steadfastly committed to resisting any pressure from antisocial groups or individuals and will never be associated with any such groups or individuals” and has also established the Regulations for Rejection of Antisocial Forces to ensure that officers and employees are thoroughly aware that they must not provide any profit or accommodation to antisocial forces.

In addition, in the event of undue demands, such matters shall be dealt with by the Group Risk Management Countermeasures Committee that is established under the Board of Executive Officers.

The Company has joined the Osaka Prefecture Corporate Defense Council (hereinafter “Corporate Defense Council”). The person in charge of the General Affairs Department participates in training sessions, etc. convened by the Corporate Defense Council, and exchanges information as necessary.
